Three Questions you can ask of every sermon:

1. What is God doing in the story?

In this story/sermon, God is...

2. What is God saying to me?

I hear God’s voice saying through the passage/pastor...

3. What do we get to do?

Because God is doing _____, we get to...

Titus 3:3-8

3 At one time we too were foolish, disobedient, deceived and enslaved by all kinds of passions and pleasures. We lived in malice and envy, being hated and hating one another. 4 But when the kindness and love of God our Savior appeared, 5 he saved us, not because of righteous things we had done, but because of his mercy. He saved us through the washing of rebirth and renewal by the Holy Spirit, 6 whom he poured out on us generously through Jesus Christ our Savior, 7 so that, having been justified by his grace, we might become heirs having the hope of eternal life. 8 This is a trustworthy saying. And I want you to stress these things, so that those who have trusted in God may be careful to devote themselves to doing what is good. These things are excellent and profitable for everyone.

1. Mark the names/titles of all the different people in this passage. Who all is involved? Who is present? Imagine the story from their point of view. Who do you most identify with?

2. Circle all the words that refer to God: names, adjectives, etc.
What does this text teach us about who God is?

3. Underline the verbs

What is God doing? What are others doing? What are we invited to do?

4. Put a box around a sentence, phrase, or word that stands out to you.What do you think the Spirit is saying to you through this passage?

5. Journal a short prayer of response/thanksgiving
